Healthcare

Hospitals, health plans, clinics, laboratories and suppliers in disputes over billing, claim denials, price adjustments and network participation.

Between what was billed and what was paid lies the denial. And the dispute.

Relationships between hospitals, health plans, clinics, laboratories and suppliers involve fee schedules, claim denials, price adjustments and service contracts. Disputes arise over amounts billed and denied, adjustments, network terminations and transactions between providers. SGEx understands how the sector bills.

Common situations in this industry

Disagreement between amounts billed, denied and paid.

Disputed price adjustments or payment clauses.

Termination of a contract or network participation.

Accounting or economic expert evidence in sector litigation.

Valuation in a corporate transaction between providers.

How SGEx works

Claim by claim

Billing, denials and payments reconciled by encounter or period.

Fee schedule applied

Payment recalculated under the agreed fee schedule and adjustment.

Termination quantified

Losses measured from the history of the relationship.

Every difference is linked to the contract, the fee schedule and the billing record that explain it.

What We Solve

Questions in the healthcare sector.

How much was wrongly denied?

Determination of amounts billed, denied and paid.

Was the adjustment applied?

Review of price adjustments and payment clauses.

What did leaving the network cost?

Quantification of losses on termination.

Was the fee schedule followed?

Recalculation under the agreed fee schedule.

What is the provider worth?

Valuation in corporate transactions.

Does the expert report hold up?

Party-appointed expert services in accounting and economic evidence.

How We Approach It

Steps applied to this type of engagement.

1Contract and fees

Payment and adjustment rules.

2Billing

Gathering claims, denials and payments.

3Reconciliation

Comparison by period or encounter.

4Result

Differences determined and documented.

What we examine: contracts and fee schedules, billing and denial reports, payment statements, financial statements and documentation of healthcare costs.

Deliverables: technical opinion, recalculation of billing and denials, quantification of losses, valuation report and party-appointed expert services.
